Service charges by Hotels and Restaurants:

Customers empowered to approach Consumer Court

New guidelines will make levying service charge 'illegal'

New Delhi, July 2- Coming to the aid of Hotel and Restaurant customers, the Ministry of Consumer Affairs has laid out new guidelines on levy of service charges, according to which people will be empowered to approach Consumer Commissions and the Central Consumer Protection Authority (CCPA) if Hotels and Restaurants levy service charge despite the Ministry asking them to stop making the levy. Following the fresh guidelines, it will now be completely up to the customers to pay any amount as tip and eateries cannot directly or indirectly levy any charge more than the mentioned rate of food items.

The Ministry will soon come out with the fresh guidelines, which will have the legal backing to deal with this menace.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR TEACHERS: Digital deliver and technology integration in education may undoubtedly serve a useful purpose. Higher education must indeed embrace and keep pace with the advancements in technology. Technology can be effectively leveraged as a quality-enhancement tool. It would, however, be a blunder to regard technology-mediated teaching-learning as an alternative to face-to-face education. Technology can supplement and not substitute teachers.

No world-class Universities, including those with a high degree of technology integration in their teaching and learning processes, are planning to cut down their faculty cost or their number any time soon. On the contrary, they envision hiring more of them to attain greater excellence. India cannot be an exception to this. Higher education is a lot more than borrowing content and delivering them online or outsourcing content. This would render India a consumer of knowledge. We must, instead, be focussed on exploiting our full potential to emerge as a producer of knowledge and providers of the global workforce. — Furqan Qamar in The Hindu

The contact sport practiced only in cars

Moscow: 'Car-Jitsu, is a new contact sport that is getting a lot of attention on Russian social media because it is basically jiu-jitsu in a car.

Invented a couple of years ago by Vikentiy Mikheev, a Brazilian jiu-jitsu and Judo black belt and a professional mixed martial arts fighter, car-jitsu challenges practitioners to subdue their opponent in the small confines of a car. Everything inside the car – including the seat belts, steering wheel, mirrors and chairs – can be used to gain an upper hand in the match, but, just like in regular jiu-jitsu, hitting is not allowed.

Both competitors start in the front seats of a car, and, just like in jiu-jitsuu, the goal is to submit the opponent or gain an advantageous position and score more points. A match consists of two rounds of three minutes each, where competitors switch the drivers and passenger seat sides. If they are tied after these two rounds the competitors move to the back seat for a deciding four minute round.

Man sets Church on fire because wife keeps donating to it

Saint Petersburg: Tired of seeing his family's money being donated to the local Church, an exasperated Russian man set the place of worship a blaze in a feat of rage.

On June 26 morning, a fire broke out at the Church of St. Basil the Great in the village of Pargolovo, Russia's Saint Petersburg district. The fire quickly engulfed the wooden roof and walls of the building, and the entire place would have probably burned to a crisp until the firefighters arrived, if the parishioners didn't put the fire out themselves.

Still, the damage was considerable, and local news outlets reported that many of the locals had tears in their eyes as they looked at their local place of worship. But that sadness quickly turned to anger directed at the man responsible for the devastation.

Mysore University to start M.Sc course in Clinical Reproduction Genetics

UoM Academic Council meeting held

Mysuru, July 2 (RK&DM)- University of Mysore (UoM) will start M.Sc course in Clinical Reproduction Genetics from this year.

Announcing this at the UoM Academic Council meeting at Vijnana Bhavan in Manasagangothri here on Thursday, Vice-Chancellor Prof. G. Hemantha Kumar said that the four semester M.Sc course in Clinical Reproduction Genetics and M.A. Course in Defence and Strategic Studies has been approved by the Council. M.Sc course will be offered in association with Mediwave IVF and Fertility Research Hospital, and a memorandum of understanding in this regard will be signed soon, he added.

Prof. Hemantha Kumar pointed out that a proposal will be sent to the Government to establish a Medical College for which the UoM was ready to provide a plot measuring about 25 acres.

"We had 20 acres of land on the Chamundi foothills and an Institute was already planned over there. However, even today, the University is ready to establish the Medical College like the establishment of the Engineering College on its campus last year, provided UoM gets funds from the Government," he maintained, adding that 17 temporary faculty members have been appointed to the Engineering College.

The VC said that the School of Pharmacy is coming up with B.Pharm course and it has been planned to introduce D.Pharm course from this year itself.

Teaching posts

Replying to a question by MLC C.N. Manjegowda, the VC said that the dearth of faculty in the University has affected the student-teacher ratio and also its overall rating, which has dropped to A from A+. Out of the 667 teaching posts, the University currently has 272 posts and guest lecturers are being appointed every year to deal with the shortage of teaching staff.

Replying to Academic Council member Shashi from Mandya, Prof. Hemantha Kumar said he would once again write to the Government to consider inclusion of Academic Council members, like the Syndicate members, in the College Inspection Committees.

LLB course

UoM School of Law Dean Maruti said the Law Department was making continuous efforts to get recognition for B.Com LLB course that the University has been running for the past two-three years. The Law Department was pursuing the case with the BCI (Bar Council of India) and the necessary fee for the recognition has been paid. While there is recognition for the B.A.LLB course started in 2014, the B.Com LLB course was awaiting recognition, he said, while asserting that the issue will not harm the students future as the recognition of the course would be retrospective.

Fee hike

The University has decided to increase the fee for both online and offline courses. While the proposed hike is 30 percent for online courses, it is 5 percent for offline courses.

The other decisions taken included restriction of the tenure of Principals of UoM's constituent Colleges to three years, one-time online exam for Chinese students who are unable to get Visa to return to Mysuru to complete B.Tech course and appointment of Dean to the School of Engineering that was started last year.

UoM Registrar Prof. R. Shivappa, Registrar (Evaluation) Prof. A.P. Jnanaprakash, Prof. Basavarajappa, Prof. Muzaffar Assadi and others attended the meeting.

Kudos to Flybus Service

Sir,

I recently flew from Lucknow to Bengaluru by Indigo Airlines. The flight arrived 40 minutes late. Instead of 18.35, it arrived at 19.15.

I had booked my Flybus ticket to Mysuru online before departure from Lucknow as boarding was in time for 19.15 departure bus. As the flight was delayed, I was sure of missing the 19.15 Flybus to Mysuru.

As the flight landed, I was called by the bus conductor about my travel. I explained to him that the flight just landed and it may take 20 minutes for me to reach the bus.

He said he cannot wait but no need to worry as there was another bus at 20.15 and I could be accommodated with the same ticket. He also asked me to contact the Flybus counter.

After disembarking from flight, I straightaway went to Flybus counter and explained my situation. To my surprise, I was asked to tell my previous missed bus PNR number and was asked to board 20.15 departure Flybus to Mysuru, without cancellation or with any extra money.

I highly appreciate KSRTC for this wonderful gesture towards its Flybus passengers.

Harangi Dam full: MLA offers traditional 'Bagina'

10,000 cusecs of water to be released by this evening

Kushalnagar, July 2 (Akshay & BCT)- Barely 10 days after the setting in of the South West Monsoon in Kodagu district, the Harangi Dam in Somwarpet taluk has filled to the brim and today morning, 1,200 cusecs of water has been released to the river that will reach the Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam in Mandya.

By this evening, the outflow will be increased to 10,000 cusecs and all the residents living in the downstream and by the side of the river have been asked to move to safer places as the water release will only increase in the coming days. The reservoir touched its maximum level of 2,859 ft. and to mark the occasion this morning, Madikeri MLA M.P. Appachu Ranjan offered traditional 'Bagina' to River Cauvery after performing puja to the statue of Goddess Cauvery at the reservoir.

The 'Bagina', placed on the traditional 'Mora' contained saree, blouse, flowers, fruits, bangles, arashina-kumkum and rice. The rituals were led by a team of priests. Soon after the Bagina offering, all the four gates of the Harangi Dam were opened and over 300 cusecs of water were released from each gate, taking the total release to 1,200 cusecs.

Harangi Dam Assistant Executive Engineer told Star of Mysore that after the release of 1,200 cusecs, the Dam level stood at 2,857.17 ft. "We have an inflow of 17,000 cusecs now and we will increase the outflow by 10,000 cusecs by evening. In fact, we cannot release the 10,000 cusecs at once due to the Dam safety. We will release the water in stages," he said.

"From tomorrow, a steady level of 2,854 ft. or 2,855 ft. will be maintained for cushioning effect as we cannot perpetually store the maximum of 2,859 ft.," he added.

Silt accumulation

This is for the first time that the reservoir has filled up during this monsoon and according to Harangi Engineering Department sources, the reservoir has filled up due to silt accumulation.

More than one tmcft (one thousand million cubic feet) of silt has accumulated in the Dam and there is an urgent need to remove silt to increase the water storage capacity.

Though the Karnataka Engineers Research Station (KERS) conducted a survey of the river to ascertain the amount of silt deposited in the Dam and accordingly, the Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited (CNNL) has prepared a Detailed Project Report (DPR) for Rs. 130 crore for removing silt, the project is yet to see the light of the day.

In November 2020, the State Cabinet had accorded administrative approval to release Rs. 130 crore to remove silt from Harangi Dam but the works have not yet begun and the issue has taken a backseat now.

Dasara Jumbos screening at camps begins on July 15

This time, 18 to 20 elephants to be identified; 14 or 15 will make to final list, says DCF

Mysuru, July 2 (SBD, MTY& BCT)- With three months to go for this year's Dasara festivities, the Forest Department is set to begin the process of selection of elephants, the star attraction of the 10-day festival and the grand Vijayadashami finale.

The Department will set the process in motion on July 15. This year, Dasara will begin on Sept. 26 and the Vijayadashami will fall on Oct. 5. The traditional Gajapayana — the march of elephants from the forests to the Mysore Palace — is scheduled to be held in the first week of August.

Forest Department officials said that teams will visit the elephant camps of Mysuru, Kodagu and Chamarajanagar to prepare a list of probable elephants and will send the same to the High-Power Committee for final approval. The Committee will decide on the number of elephants that will participate and if it decides that only 12 will take part, then three elephants will be weeded out in the final selection.

The Department usually brings over 14 to 15 elephants to Mysuru from the forests for the purpose of identifying the second line of Dasara performers. Suppose the second line is readied for the festivities, in that case, the Department can train them properly and also will be able to handle an emergency situation that might arise if an elephant falls sick. In 2021 and 2020, only eight elephants took part in the routine training as the COVID pandemic had cast a dark shadow over the celebration and the festival was restricted only to the Palace premises.

Health check-up

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Deputy Conservator of Forests (Wildlife) V. Karikalan said that they will begin the screening of the elephants at the elephant camps on July 15 and the health check-up of the pachyderms will be from July 17 to check the overall health, musth condition, behaviour and pregnancy.

"Primarily, the teams will visit Dubare and Mathigodu Elephant Camps in Kodagu and the Ramapura Elephant Camp in Bandipur, Chamarajanagar district. Even the elephants that have made it to last year's Dasara will be subjected to medical tests," Karikalan said. This time, over 18 to 20 elephants will be identified and 14 to 15 of them will find a place in the final list. "Among the final selected ones, at least five will be female elephants and the Gajapayana will be held by Aug. 10 this year," he added.

Honour for Arjuna

Department sources said that this time too, tusker Abhimanyu will carry the Golden Howdah and along with it, other elephants Gopalaswamy, Dhananjaya, Ashwathama, Vikrama and Arjuna are the sure-to-attend candidates. This year, Arjuna, the six-time veteran in performing the role of Howdah elephant (before Abhimanyu) will be honoured by making him the Nishane Elephant (pilot elephant).

Another elephant that is likely to make it to the list is Gajendra. As the festivities that were held in the last two years were limited to the Palace, the rigorous training through the morning and evening walks through the streets of Mysuru city were given a go-by. This year, however, there will be full-fledged training and the Department is seemingly in a hurry to get the elephants from the forests by Aug. 10 to begin the training routine, sources said.

Apart from identifying the elephants for the festival, the Department has to call for tenders to supply food to the pachyderms and this includes managing their nutritious food from morning to night, fodder and a diet plan that has been followed for decades with new additions if any as prepared by the Department higher authorities.

Minor landslides at Chembu, 2nd Monnangeri in Kodagu

Madikeri, July 2 (PS, Akshay& BCT)- After a couple of earthquakes with varying magnitudes recorded on the Richter Scale with the epicentre at Chembu village in Kodagu district, a minor landslide was reported this morning from that village.

A hillock came crashing on a house at 3 am with a loud sound, waking up the residents. Fortunately, the house was partially buried under mud and the residents ran outside for safety. The incident was reported from the house of Poojarigadde Girish.

Residents said that it has been continuously raining in the area for the last two days and they heard a loud sound at 3 am. A Revenue Department team has visited the village to ascertain the damage and carry out relief measures.

Reports also said that there has been another landslide along with trees at Second Monnangeri this morning on the Madikeri-Mangaluru Highway.

The Forest Department personnel have begun the clearing of the road.

Kodagu Deputy Commissioner Dr. B.C. Satish told Star of Mysore that it cannot be a landslide but only a landslip. "It is a minor incident and keeps happening in Kodagu during monsoon as houses are built close to hillocks after removing mud from the base. A team from the Revenue Department has been rushed to Chembu and officers will ascertain the damage," he said.

A decision will be taken by the officers if the inmates of the house have to be relocated. "All the teams are ready to face the monsoon and in case there is a need, we will shift the people from vulnerable areas to safer places. Also, we have the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) at our disposal and the team will carry out relief and rescue operations," the DC added.

Udaipur beheading

Hindu organisations and traders take out joint rally

Mysuru, July 2 (MTY&DM)- Strongly condemning Rajasthan's Udaipur incident where a tailor was brutally beheaded, hundreds of members of various Hindu organisations and traders of Marvari community from Rajasthan and Gujarat, took out a massive rally in city this morning, urging the Government to ensure that such incidents do not recur and to further strengthen laws against terror activities and such other heinous acts against humanity.

The rally, which commenced from Gandhi Square in the heart of the city, passed through Dufferin Clock Tower, Shivarampet, D. Devaraj Urs Road and JLB Road, before reaching the Deputy Commissioner's Office where a memorandum was submitted seeking justice to the family of tailor Kanhaiya Lal, who was recently beheaded at his shop in Udaipur by some miscreants for allegedly supporting the post of expelled BJP functionary Nupur Sharma.

The protesters urged the Government to publicly hang the culprits and to ensure that such horrifying incidents do not recur ever again in the country.

Claiming that the killers of Hindu activists such as Kyathamaranahalli Raju of Mysuru and others elsewhere in the State were out on bail, they wanted the Government to take stringent actions to prevent assaults against members of the Hindu community.

MLA L. Nagendra joined the protesters at the DC's Office.

Members of various Hindu organisations — Sanjay, M.K. Premkumar, B.S. Prashanth, Rakesh Bhat, Jeevan and Kumar — took part in the rally.

The Marvari traders opened their shops for the day in the Central Business District after the rally concluded and submission of memorandum at DC's Office.

Service charges by Hotels

There will be no scope for including any service charge in the Bill covering the new guidelines, it is learnt.

Earlier there was no provision in the rules to seek redressal against such charge by the eateries. The earlier Consumer Protection Act had no provision for CCPA, which will now become a nodal authority to address consumers' concerns.

The earlier guidelines of 2017, which was advisory in nature, had an optional provision for printing service charge in the bills. But it had clearly mentioned that the space in that head must be left blank and it would be up to the customers to fill any amount of their liking.

Sources said that since this provision had also created ambiguity in the minds of consumers and eatery operators, the new guidelines will clearly specify that levying service charge is 'Illegal'. The Ministry had earlier informed the Hotel industry representatives that there is no legal sanctity for levying service charge and customers often take the service charge as 'Service tax' and end up paying this charge, the sources added.

Students stage protest demanding extension of bus pass validity

Mysuru, July 2 (MTY&DM)- Seeking extension of validity of KSRTC bus passes, hundreds of students, under the banner of AIDSO (All India Democratic Students Organisation) staged a demonstration in front of the Deputy Commissioner's Office here yesterday.

Maintaining that in the past, the authorities used to extend the validity of bus passes till the end of the academic year, they alleged that this year, the authorities have suddenly terminated the validity of bus pass that ends on June 30.

Contending that they have to travel in buses by buying tickets from July 1 which is a huge burden for them, the students urged the KSRTC to extend the validity till the conclusion of the current academic year, which is likely to end in September.

Pointing out that BMTC (Bengaluru Metropolitan Transport Corporation) has already extended the bus pass validity which has benefited thousands of students there, they wanted the KSRTC to follow BMTC and extend the validity, which will be of great help for poor students.

They warned of intensifying the protest if the bus pass validity is not extended immediately.

AIDSO office-bearers Subash, Chandrakala, Asia Begum, Nitin, Swathi and others were present.

Students line up at N'gud bus stand

Meanwhile, students thronged the KSRTC bus stand at Nanjangud to get the bus pass.

Upon coming to know of distribution of bus pass, many students skipped classes to stand in queues at the bus stand. As confusion prevailed on the issuance/renewal of bus pass, the students vented out their anger against the authorities.

Upon coming to know of the situation, KRRS (Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha) activists arrived at Nanjangud bus stand and took the authorities to task for the confusion and chaos. They demanded that the authorities set up separate counters for boy and girl students for issuance/renewal of bus pass.

Alleging that hardly a few buses start from the new bus stand at Nanjangud, they argued that this has resulted in a lot of inconvenience to daily commuters. They urged the authorities to resolve the issue.

KRRS office-bearers Vidyasagar, Satish Rao and others were present.

Pourakarmikas launch indefinite stir

Demand regularisation of service

Mysuru, July 2 (MTY&DM)- Following a call by Karnataka City Corporations, CMCs and TMCs Pourakarmika Association, contract pourakarmikas, sewage workers and waste disposal vehicle drivers attached to Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) launched an indefinite stir in front of the MCC office on Sayyaji Rao Road by skipping work on Friday.

Addressing the protesters, MCC Permanent and Contract Pourakarmika Association President N. Mara said that Pourakarmikas have played a major role in Mysuru getting the cleanest city tag. But the Government is totally negligent on the demands for regularising the service of contract Pourakarmikas, he alleged.

Wanting the Government to abolish the contract system, Mara maintained that though Pourakarmikas have been brought under direct payment system, their service has not been regularised and as such they are deprived of Governmental benefits.

Asserting that Pourakarmikas have been asked not to return to work until their main demand of regularisation of service is met, he said that the indefinite stir will continue till the Chief Minister agrees to their demands.

Karnataka Dalit Chaluvali Navanirmana Vedike too has extended support to the stir.

Former MLA M.K. Somashekar, former Mayor and BSP leader Purushotham, writers Prof. K.S. Bhagavan and N. Divakar, Pourakarmika leaders O. Mohankumar, C.R. Rachaiah, S. Murugesh, J. Manjunath, O. Arunkumar, M. Rajeev and others took part in the stir.

Mysuru, July 2- In yet another case of cheating on the promise of getting jobs, a 46-year-old man has been cheated to the tune of Rs. 48.80 lakh by an alleged recruitment company.

S.S. Kiran, a resident of Sathagalli in the city is the one who has been duped on the promise of job.

Kiran, a Mechanical Diploma holder, came in contact with a recruitment company named 'Eminent Minds', when he was in search of a job through Google. Believing her, Kiran got registered, when he was told to pay money through a link, for getting the job he was searching for. Thereafter, Kiran transferred money totalling Rs.48.80 lakh to the account of Eminent Minds Marketing and V-Source Marketing on different dates from Nov. 5, 2020 to April 4, 2022.

As Kiran did not get the job even after months, Kiran came in regular contact with the recruitment company seeking return of money, when he was repeatedly told that he would get the job that suited him. On getting suspicious as he was getting evasive replies, Kiran lodged a complaint with the CEN Police, who have started investigation.

Permanent fee exemption for
Govt. PU College girl students

Bengaluru, July 2- In yet another move aimed at promoting girl child education, the Department of School Education and Literacy has permanently exempted the annual fees for girl students enrolled in Government PU Colleges across the State, starting from this academic year (2022-23).

The Government had announced the fee exemption for girls, from Nursery to Post-Graduation, with effect from the academic year 2018-19, but a fresh order had to be issued each year to continue it.

The Department of School Education and Literacy (earlier called as Department of Pre-University Education) was providing a sum of Rs. 456 for every girl student each year.

This amount was being paid to the respective PU College Principal's account, which in turn, was credited as fee.

But as per the present order, the fee exemption will be a permanent one and there will be no need for a recurring order for PU girl students again.

However, the old system of providing fee will continue for girls studying degree and other courses.

WORD OF THE DAY

Confidant

Pronunciation: KAHN-fuh-dahnt.
Meaning: A confidant is someone to whom secrets are entrusted, and especially a very close friend.
Origin: If you're confident of the trustworthiness of your confidants, you're tuned into the origins of the word confidant. The word comes, via French, from the Italian confidente, meaning "trusting, having trust in," from Latin confidere, meaning "to put one's trust in, have confidence in." Other descendants of confidere in English include confide, confidence, confident, and confidential, all of which ultimately have Latin fidere, meaning "to trust (in), rely (on)," as their root. Confidant (and its variant confidante, used especially of a woman) and confident are often confused, a topic about which we have plenty to say.
Example: "Lee Strasberg, the Actors Studio director who was, with his wife, Paula, a confidant and caretaker of Marilyn Monroe, felt that an actor must plumb the depths of her psyche to find the emotional truth of a performance." –James Sullivan

THE ODD WORD

Caduceator

Herald; messenger.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Cut to the chase

Meaning: To get to the point and leave out unnecessary details or preamble.
Origin: The phrase 'cut to the chase' originated in the American film industry, when many early movies ended in a chase scene. The first printed reference to the expression comes from script direction from the 1929 Hollywood Girl: "Jannings escapes... Cut to the chase."
Example: "Let me cut to the chase: Jennifer thinks you're mad at her!"

QUOTE BOX

Two things you will never have to chase: True friends & true love.

— Mandy Hale
